DEDICATION

Arthur P. Petit

We, the yearbook staff, have chosen as the dedicatee of the 1960 Pine Whispers, a man who has served the college for the past 18 years. During these years he has been not only a member of the administration but also a friend of the students. He has publicized the college to a large audience and encouraged high caliber students to attend. He has helped students to plan their college careers and to see the culmination of their plans. He has served the college in many capacities including Alumni Field Secretary, Director of Public Relations, and Director of Admissions. It is therefore with gratitude and praise that we dedicate the 1960 Pine Whispers to Mr. Arthur Petit.

President

Glenn L.

Clayton

Since 1948, when he became the administrative head of Ashland College, Dr. Glenn L. Clayton has given capable guidance and leadership to Ashland College. Through his tireless efforts, the campus has grown—not only in terms of an extensive building program—but also scholastically and in the development of good Christian attitudes, giving students the opportunity to grow into mature and responsible citizens.

In Memory

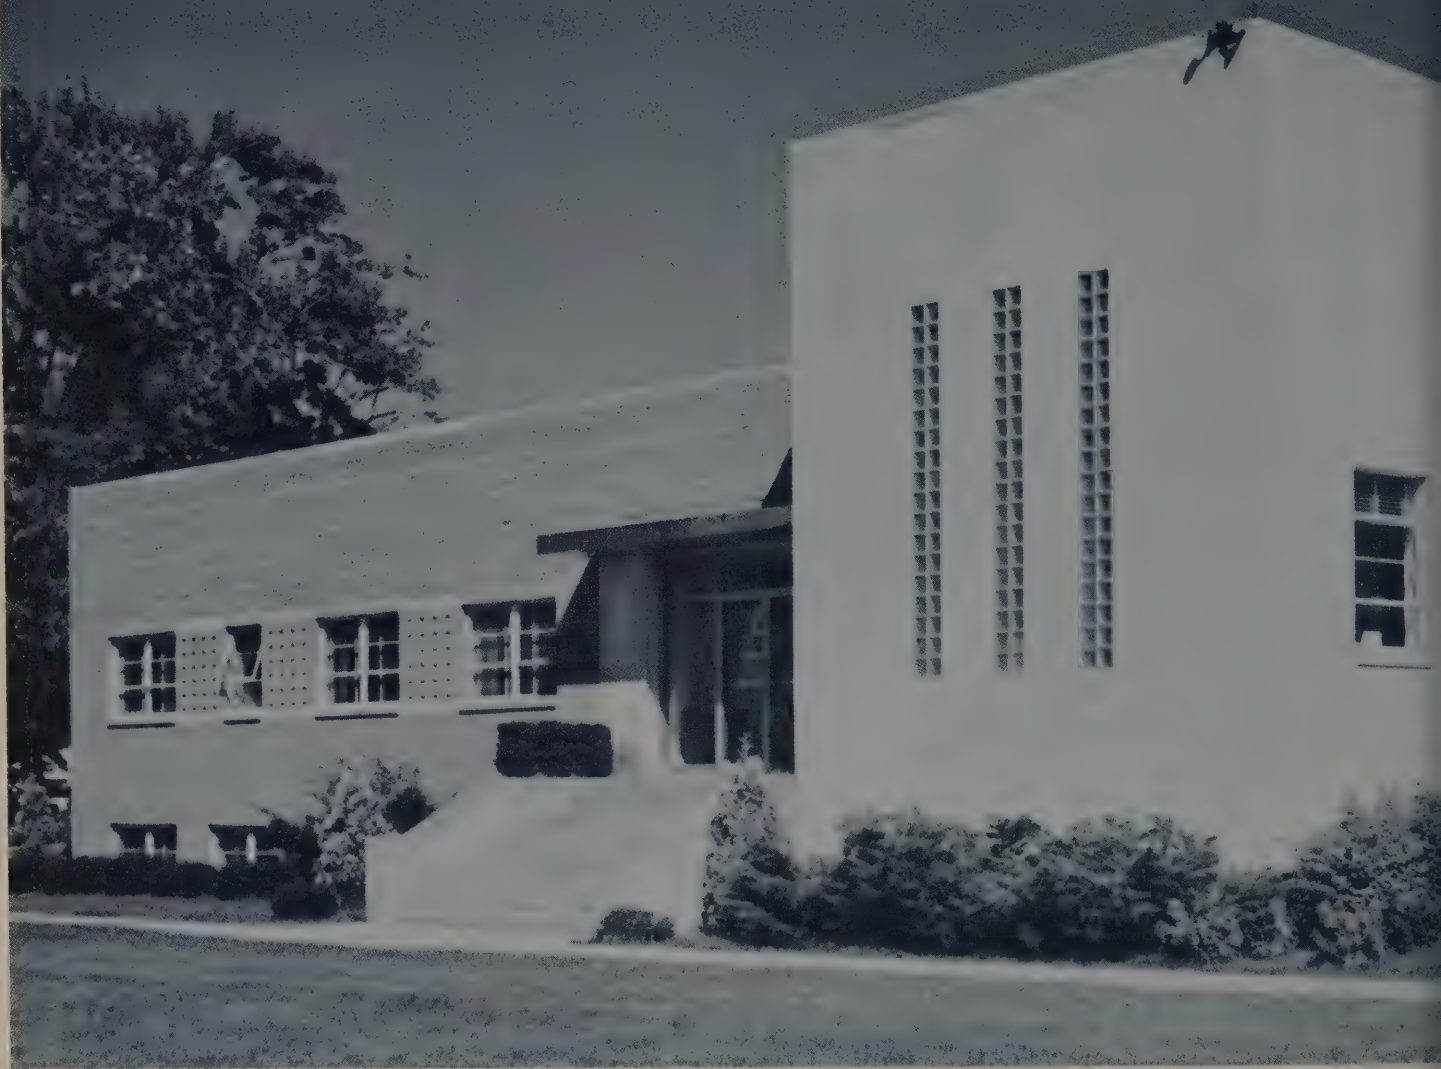

Dr. William D. Furry

Doctor William Davies Furry, former President of Ashland College and Professor of Philosophy, died in December 1959, at the age of 85. He had devoted his entire life to service as a teacher of young people and as a minister of the Brethren Church.

A recognized authority in the field of philosophy, he had written numerous books and articles on the subject and possessed one of the best collections of philosophical books in this area.

Doctor Furry came to Ashland College in 1900 to teach, and from 1911 to 1919 he served as President. After this he spent 14 years first as Dean, then as President of Shorter College, in Georgia.

He returned north to the Brethren ministry, serving a number of churches with distinction. After the death of Mrs. Furry, he returned to Ashland College in 1943, as Professor of Philosophy and remained active until 1957 when he was retired with the title of Professor Emeritus.

WHO'S WHO

Scholarship, leadership, cooperation in educational and extracurricular activities, general citizenship, and promise of future usefulness are the criteria used in selecting nominees for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. This book lists students from nearly 700 colleges and universities, as well as the activities and campus positions of each nominee. The Personnel Committee is responsible for selecting these seniors.

The Student Council is composed of the presidents of all the recognized student organizations. It has the responsibilities of representing the student body in the creation and administration of college policies, establishing a positive student attitude and morale, and carrying out the every day business that is necessitated of a governing body.

Many of the present day workers and leaders of communities are ex-members of Student Council; this will continue to be true in the future. Membership on council is becoming a greater honor, privilege and duty with each year. As the effectiveness of the Student Council increases, the stature of the student body likewise increases.

RELIGIOUS INTERESTS COMMITTEE

The Religious Interest Committee is composed of five to seven faculty people who are elected by the faculty. The committee regularly follows the custom of inviting student representatives and a representative of the Brethren Youth Organization into membership.

The committee is charged with evaluation of the religious atmosphere of the campus. Activities and effectiveness of religious organizations and committees are surveyed regularly. The annual Christian Emphasis Week program is planned and arranged by this committee.

PUBLICATIONS

COMMITTEE

The Publications Committee consists of members of the faculty, administration, editor and business managers of both the Pine Whispers and the Collegian, and station manager of WACC. It formulates the policies of the publications and the radio station and appoints students to fill the top positions of each publication.

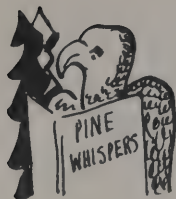

Snapping photos for the Pine Whispers, the Collegian, and general public relation kept the photographers on their toes this year. The money which they receive for this position is from both Student Council and administration.

PINE WHISPERS

I have spoken!

Pine Whispers, the annual historical document of Ashland College, is celebrating its forty-third year of publication.

Directing the work this year was Bob Miller, Editor-in-Chief. Supervising business and finance was Business Manager, Larry Fulk; and serving as Associate Editor was Pat Polcha. Each member of the staff, however, is equally important in completing the yearbook.

The editor is selected by the Publications Committee. In the fall, he begins the process of selecting a staff from interested volunteers. The students not only accomplish a well developed book but also learn group cooperation and receive personal satisfaction in this work.

Collegian, the campus newspaper, is a bi-weekly publication of student news and opinion. The purposes of the paper are to promote school spirit by keeping students well informed concerning school activities; to better acquaint the student body, faculty, and outside readers with Ashland College; and to voice student opinion through editorials and letters to the editor.

Editor Becky Wertz and her staff have been responsible for the publication in this its 38th year of existence. Dave Dillon, Business Manager, was in charge of obtaining advertisements and handling the financial affairs of the paper.

The cooperation and effort of all staff members contribute to the final product.

COLLEGIAN

Wow! What a scoop!

Footlighters is the dramatic organization on campus for those interested in the theatre. However, any student who wishes may participate in any phase of the club's productions. In addition to acting these phases include: managing, costumes, props, lighting, sound effects and make-up.

Footlighters presents three major productions a year, and this year formed an experimental theatre. These activities aid in developing the personality of the participant, thus adding much to his character.

FOOTLIGHTERS

WACC, the Ashland College campus radio station, is staffed and run by the Monitors Club. The studios are maintained in Founders Hall from which daily programs originate. Recently, WACC edited programs for use over the Ashland and Mansfield stations. This produces a friendly relation between the college and the city of Ashland and its surrounding communities.

Actual broadcasting experience in announcing, preparation of programs, technical work, and performance is available to all students. WACC has a fine staff of trained personnel, who are really interested in radio, each participating to the best of their ability.

ASHLAND COLLEGE CHAPEL CHOIR

President Gene Hollinger
 Vice-President Carl Leedy
 Secretary, Treasurer ... Ann Lindower

The Ashland College Chapel Choir is composed of selected voices and membership and is limited by try-outs. In addition to singing each Wednesday for chapel services, the choir has presented the following: Homecoming Festivities, and Christmas Concert in Ashland and Mansfield. In the spring they joined with the Bel Canto Chorale and a small orchestra to present Brahms's Requiem. A small tour was made between semesters in Ohio and Indiana, where they sang in churches as well as high schools along route. The annual home concert was given on February 14, which was the highlight of the year for the choir.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

All together now!

The Girls' Glee Club provides to all women the opportunity to sing original compositions and choral arrangements for women's voices, ranging from the great classics to lighter ballads and glees. The Glee Club furnishes music for special programs and for some chapel services.

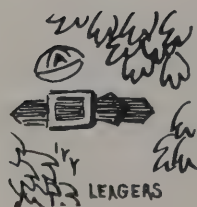

The Ivy Leaguers added spice to the choir concerts again this year. Presenting a program of light numbers, the group entertained on the tour and at home.

MUSICAGLIA

Musicaglia membership consists of all students who are interested in music and the encouragement of music activities on campus. During the year the club attends concerts, conventions, open rehearsals, and various other musical events. Musicaglia ushers for the college Concert-Lecture Series and other musical programs on campus. A banquet, held every spring for members and music faculty, featuring a lecture on music, is the highlight of the year.

PEP CLUB

President Carol Heck
 Vice-President Carolyn Tate
 Secretary, Treasurer .. Nancy Thompson

The purpose of Pep Club is to promote school spirit in all athletic events. During football season Pep Club along with two other clubs sponsored a chartered bus to the Bluffton game. Also during football season, Pep Club sponsored a Pigskin Party after the Ohio Northern game. At the present time we have a Pep Club section at all the basketball games played on campus. Girls wear white blouses when they sit in this section. We also sponsor the free programs handed out before the basketball games.

The Y. W. C. A. is the world's oldest and largest women's organization. It emphasizes the importance and dignity of the individual and the role of women as partners in the human enterprise. It seeks to translate the spiritual insights of a Christian faith into the practical democracy of a world where men and women of all races, nationalities, and creeds can learn to live together in peace.

It is a service club and our activities for the year include: Big-Little Sister Party; a float for Homecoming; Trick-or-Treat Night to raise funds for Dale-Roy Retarded School; Thanksgiving devotional program for Old Folk's Home; Christmas Party for faculty children; Mothers' Week-end; sale of sweat-shirts, pennants, and stuffed animals to raise money, especially for the Geneva Conference held in the spring; and other devotional and informative programs which are of great interest.

YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The Men's Gospel Team is a campus organization open to all men of Ashland College who desire to exalt the name of the Lord Jesus Christ above every name and spread His divinely revealed Gospel to sinful men.

The team spreads the Gospel through conducting worship services in various churches in the Ashland-Mansfield area and also in Brethren churches in Pennsylvania, Indiana, and Ohio. The Gospel witness on the campus is shown forth in the lives of the team members as they associate with the other students. A monthly evangelistic program, called POSWIT, is presented for the entire campus. Other team activities include a radio program, the placing of devotional materials in Jacobs Hall and the awarding of a college sportsman-ship trophy.

Some day we will have a classroom, too.

Our purposes are to bring future teachers into closer relationships with each other and with the state and national associations, to extend the spirit of professional unity and purpose, to develop leadership to the interest of the best young men and women to education as a career, and to secure increased public support of and interest in education.

Throughout the year our programs are centered around education topics. They include speakers who are experts in their respective fields, panel discussions, and movies.

In Memory

Danial Guequierre

Nadine Golby

When Dan Guequierre arrived at Ashland last summer, the campus community commented on his good manners and distinguished appearance. As he attended classes, Dan proved to be not only a gracious person but a serious student. More than all else we remember his warm friendliness. Visiting the home of a friend, he never walked into the house without asking, "What can I do to help you?" and he meant it. Unfortunately his life came to an abrupt ending before he had a chance to fulfill his and others expectations for his future, but our memory of him shall live on.

A tragic accident claimed the life of Nadine Golby and her loss has affected all who knew her. Being an independent-minded person, this young student was a challenge to herself as well as to her friends. Nadine had a fun-loving, serious-minded, moody, illusive personality and was forever seeking the real and true and the reasons why. Her stimulating mind was always active and served as a spark for others. Honesty, integrity, and loyalty were among her many admirable character traits that endeared her to us. Her place can never be taken, but in our hearts she will always live.

FOOTBALL

The 1959 football season was a great success because of hard work on the part of both coach and team. Because of a lack of experience on the part of the players, the 1959 season looked doubtful, but our boys came through in fine style with a 4-3-2 record.

Coach Fred Martinelli, who came to Ashland College from Bryan High School to take the job of head coach, did a fine job in guiding these boys. A large portion of the team consisted of freshman, but these boys played football as if they had been playing together for many years. Coach Martinelli can take a great deal of pride in them.

The Eagles began their season by tying a strong Wooster team. Since Wooster was favored to win, this was a great moral victory for Ashland. The Wooster game will long be remembered by loyal Ashland fans.

Although the Eagles lost three games, only one of them was a league game. Ashland gained a second place in the Mid-Ohio Conference. Most of the football team will return next year, and with a year's experience behind them, I doubt if they will have to settle for second place. This year looked like a good year to build a team, but this team proved that it didn't need very much building.

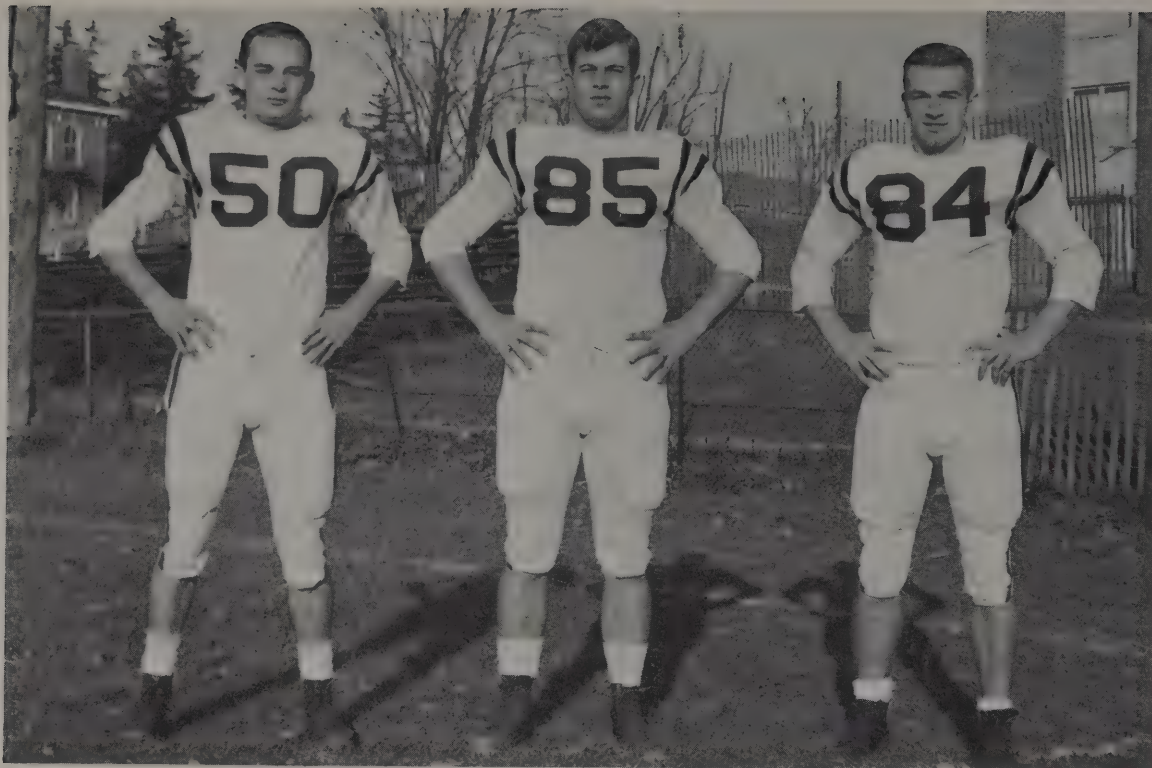

Fred Martinelli

The driving dynamo behind the Eagles this year was Fred Martinelli who came to college football ranks after spending eight years in high school coaching.

Coach Martinelli graduated from Otterbein College where he won three letters in football and baseball. He was captain and quarterback of the college football team during his senior year. Upon graduation, he received the Norris Elliot Award for proficiency in athletics and scholarship.

After receiving his degree from Otterbein, he accepted the head football coaching position at Bellville, Ohio. Football was at low ebb when Martinelli took the job. Included in the many accomplishments there were two Mohican League Championships.

In 1956, he accepted the head football coaching position at Bryan, Ohio. Football was on the downgrade here, too, for the school had not won a championship in eighteen years. In his first year his club tied for the championship and this was followed by an undisputed championship in 1958. It is no surprise that three members of this fine team followed him when he accepted the position at Ashland College.

Ashland College basketball fans this season had the privilege of watching some of the finest cage action ever to take place on the "Old Hilltop." Eagle fans buzzed right up until the night the squad concluded its season at Bluffton when the young Eagles were edged out in an overtime thriller by a fired up Findlay Oiler crew. AC fans had a right to be proud of their team because the squad defeated Defiance the night before for the second time this season—only the second loss for the Yellow Jackets all season—and because the Eagles brought home the Ohio NAIA Runner-up trophy.

The Eagles also collected individual honors when sophomore guard and co-captain Dean Maddock was voted to the All-Tourney team and freshman center Larry Aulger was selected for a second team All-Tourney position. Post-season honors went to co-captain Jim Runyon who was elected to a position on the All-Conference team.

Looking back at some highlights of the 1959-60 season, we find that the Eagles captured their first Holiday Tournament by defeating Heidelberg and edging a rugged crew from Stewart Air Force Base. On January 23, the Eagle squad up-ended the only remaining undefeated team in Ohio when they defeated Defiance 96-94. In the very next game, Ashland easily downed their traditional rival from Wooster by a 104-94 count. It was in this game that Jim Runyon and Larry Aulger combined for 64 points, each netting 32 for the season's high single game totals. Against Cedarville on February 13, the Eagles poured through the nets a record chattering 134 points and also a record number of 58 field goals.

The young ball club which ended with a 7-5 record in league play chalked up 15 victories against 9 defeats in over-all competition. It was truly a successful season for Coach Stokes senior-less Eagles—a young squad filled with fire and desire to play a good game.

INTRAMURALS

A broadened intramural program was put into effect at Ashland College this year. The main objectives of this program were to promote group spirit, leisure time activities, and greater student participation.

Intramural activities were: basketball, bowling, chess, badminton, horse-shoes, tennis, indoor track, outdoor track, swimming, golf, softball, volleyball, ping pong, and shuffleboard.

A total of six teams were entered in the men's program with thirty students to each team. The teams were the Beavers, Dukes, Trojans, Bums, Tygers and Hounds.

Awards were given to the winning team of the total program and individual awards were presented to the winners of each activity.

The girls intramural program included basketball, volleyball, ping pong and shuffleboard. This program was highlighted by the Louie-Louise all-star basketball game.

Swish—maybe.

LOUISE

Four arms and four legs?

Cheerleader moves up in the world.
